

C10 – Workshop Session 3 - Green tips for your meetings and activities

About this session...

Nora Csanyi and Nele Fassnacht work for DG SCIC, the European Commission's conference department. Having worked towards making Commission events more sustainable for a while, the new Commission priorities provide a welcome boost to their endeavours. Conferences and events are where organisations are at their most visible, making them a great opportunity to show that we are serious about the environment and care about preserving our planet.

Nora and Nele will take the audience on an interactive walk through their "Greener Events in 7 steps". Discussions will be very practical and outline possibilities for green action for events both big and small. Drawing on participants' different backgrounds and the different types of events they organise, this workshop will provide many opportunities for interaction, exchange and mutual learning.

No specific prior reading or preparation is needed for this workshop. We do ask you to bring along and share your ideas, commitment and experience. Be ready to engage with the chairs and other members of the audience. Let's co-create greener events. Every single action counts.
